

SWIMMING POOL IS FORMALLY GIVEN TO CITY AND KIDDIES TAKE FIRST SPLASH IN TANK

Elks Announce That They Will Pledge Themselves to Raise Balance of Money Needed to Pay For Pool

MAYOR LENHART ACCEPTS

Completion of Pool Represents
Gift of Thousands of Citizens to Youth of City

The job is finished. Hours before the pool was formally opened there was a long line of bathers, all sizes, all ages and all sorts and conditions. They splashed and then when thoroughly cooled by the water and the sharp breeze that was blowing they made for the warm sand and covered themselves only to duplicate the feat.

The boys were less timid. They lost no time in plunging in but the girls timidly "toed" in and then gaining courage took their ducking, too.

A great community effort was fittingly dedicated and he was surely a pessimist who after seeing the delighted boys and girls as well as men and women enjoying the sport who had anything but praise for the men who have labored day and night to bring this first real center of recreation to the people of Bismarck.

The slides for the kiddies were greatly enjoyed. Arrangements for caring for the public are excellent and for a started the opening was unmarred by any hitch.

When the municipal swimming pool was formally turned over to the city commission this afternoon by the Elks lodge which led the public campaign to raise funds and build the pool, a big proposition had been completed and a promise made to the kiddies of the city a few weeks ago redeemed.

It was late in May when the Elks decided to build the pool. In about two months the campaigns were made, plans drawn, the pool built. And hundreds of kiddies with wide and joyful eyes this afternoon stood by while the formal exercises took place. Then the grand splash took place. Citizens who saw the crowds around the pool could not but help feel a tinge of pride in the structure. If they had done the slightest thing toward it—and nearly everyone in the city did.

The Elks band led the march from the downtown section to the swimming pool. P. R. Fields, exalted ruler of the Elks, on behalf of the lodge, formally presented the pool to the city and A. P. Lenhart, president of the city commission, accepted it on behalf of the citizens and the city.

Pool Cost $11,000.

The pool cost about $11,000. It is 100 feet wide and about 115 long and holds 500,000 gallons of water, ranging in depth from 2 to 9 feet. It is one of the largest municipal pools in the Northwest and is built with all modern ideas and devices. A bathhouse, succeeded, fronts on Broadway, looking out into the park which, through the efforts of ladies of the city, is becoming a beauty spot. A municipal park worth while is expected to result from the effort. One of the next steps on the swimming pool will be to plant trees and shrubbery around it, beautifying the grounds.

Employ Life-Guard.

The pool is entirely free to children under 16 years of age and moderate charges, which may be changed, have been made for persons over 16 by John A. Larson and Harry Thompson, the city commission committee. The first few days of operation of the pool will be in the nature of an experiment and many of the present plans may be altered. It is hoped by the commissioners that enough money may be realized from the rent of suits, admission, etc., to pay a good part of the running expenses of the pool.

Two outside and one inside attendant will be kept on duty. The pool will be open from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M. "Lefty" Higgins, baseball pitcher, who has had three years professional swimming experience, will be life-guard.

The swimming pool was officially tendered the city by P. R. Fields, exalted ruler of B. P. O. E. 1199, and was officially accepted for the city by President A. P. Lenhart, of the city commission.

Why Elks Started It

Mr. Fields said:

"About two years ago the popular demand for a swimming pool became so insistent that the City Commission included in their annual budget an appropriation for building a pool. However, the action of the City Commission was questioned and the courts held that under existing circumstances a tax levy for swimming pool purposes was illegal and the matter was dropped.

"A few months ago at an informal meeting of Bismarck Elks, when the matter of supporting the Elks' Band was under discussion someone asked: 'what has Bismarck done for the Elks?' when someone else countered: 'what have the Elks done for Bismarck?' The real reason is therefor the existence of our organization aside from the personal pleasure we as Elks derive from our association with our fellow members. From that discussion arose the proposition to build a swimming pool for the boys and girls of Bismarck. The motives that induced the Elks to act on this proposition were that all good Elks pledge themselves to be 'Big Brothers' to boys and girls with whom they come in contact and as 'Big Brothers' we could fully appreciate that the boys and girls of Bismarck could and would utilize and enjoy a swimming pool."

HARDING PARTY ON THE OCEAN

Washington, July 30.—A radiogram from Secretary Christian aboard the presidential yacht Mayflower with President and Mrs. Harding en route to Plymouth, Mass., said: "All well, weather fine." at 10:10 o'clock today when the vessel was at sea north of Virginia Capes.

THOUSANDS OF DUCKS DEAD IN LOGAN COUNTY

Unable to Find Water Little Ducks Die in the Fields

Thousands of young ducks have died in the region of Napoleon in Logan county, according to George D. Gorman, manager of the Bismarck Goodyear Tire company agency, who has returned from a trip in that region.

Because of the extreme dry weather many of the sloughs which made the Napoleon marshes a famous duck-hunting ground, have dried up, he said and little ducks are unable to reach water. Partly grown ducks can be found dead in the fields, he said.

Many ducks seeking water have entered farmyards and are sharing puddles with tame ducks, he said, and Mr. Gorman saw three little ducks walking up the streets of Napoleon.

The ducks succumb before they have strength enough to go great distances for water, he said. One local hunter advances the theory that while the ducks may get water the marshes and sloughs probably are low and the alkali contents of the water remaining kills the ducks.

SHORTEST ROAD REPORT IS MADE

The shortest road report made by the weather bureau in many weeks was made today. It said:

"Roads are in good condition in all sections of the state."

Many travelers on the Red Trail passing through here in the last few days have highly praised the condition of the trail. Rain was reported in Devils Lake, Grand Forks, Larimore and Fargo only in the state yesterday. Prediction for Bismarck and vicinity for tonight and Sunday is fair and somewhat warmer Sunday.

This is the edict of Chief of Police Martineson, who says it is against the law.

Several speeders have been arrested recently.

$30,000 FUND IS GOAL

Wahpeton, N. D., July 30.—The raising of $30,000, which would enable the church to a gift of $12,500 from the Methodist Church Extension society, is the goal aimed at by the Wahpeton Methodist congregation in a drive just begun here. With a total fund of $42,500 in prospect, erection of a new church building is planned, the project having been postponed last year because of high price of materials. The congregation has two types of architecture under consideration, one, the familiar Gothic type, and the other the "library" type, which would include the parsonage in the church building.

PAPER SUSPENDED

It was known to be in financial straits for some time and quit only after every source of revenue or private subscriptions was exhausted.

MISSING BANKER AND HIS FAMILY

Spurgin, president of the Michigan Avenue Trust Co., disappeared suddenly and officials have voted to ask his indictment. They say the bank shortage may reach $1,500,000. Vivian and Mrs. Spurgin (inset), located in Detroit, denied they aided Spurgin (inset) to escape.

2 CORPORATIONS ARE CONSIDERED

Both Proposed $100,000,000 Concerns Want to Operate in State

The state banking board, at a meeting yesterday, took no action on the request of the Farmers Finance Corporation or the Foreign Finance Corporation for permission to sell stock in the state. Both are to be reported upon by the attorney-general.

The Farmers Finance Corporation is an auxiliary of the United Wheat Growers Inc., according to a letter of C. H. Gustafson, accompanying the petition of the company. It is organized under laws of Delaware. Blue sky board representatives, it was understood, were considering the feature of the corporation which provides for issuance of $100,000,000 of preferred stock without voting power and lodging voting power in 21 shares of common stock without par value.

The state board probably will receive an adverse opinion on the Foreign Finance corporation, a $100,000,000 concern to promote foreign trade, assistant attorney-general W. A. Anderson who has the matter in hand, said that it appeared that there was an effort to raise money in North Dakota to help finance eastern business.

COMING HERE FROM GERMANY

Carl Jaeger, who was in Bismarck about a year and a half ago introducing a proposition to bribe the light coal, and who informed persons interested that he was going to Germany to investigate the light coal industry, was written local people that he will be in Bismarck Monday to talk over the results of his trip.

He said in his letter that he investigated the light coal industry in all European countries and found it in a flourishing condition, especially in Germany, and predicts a great future for the industry in this state. He said he had ordered machinery for manufacturing briquettes without binder and also for coal tar and by products.

It is probable, he said, that a plant will be put up in Bismarck and perhaps a plant in Minot.

Each press puts out long lines of briquettes in eight hour runs, writes, at a low cost.

BANDITS HOLD UP FAST TRAIN; SHOOT ONE MAN

Bold Robbery of Fast Pennsylvania Limited in East Occurs Early Today

MAKE GOOD THEIR ESCAPE

Mail Clerk Shot by Bandit on Answering That no Valuable Mail was Aboard

Pittsburgh, July 30.—Four bandits boarded the Manhattan limited west bound on the Pennsylvania railroad at Cassandra, 90 miles east of Pittsburgh this morning at 2:45 o'clock and after wounding A. J. Lantz, mail clerk, rifled the mail car and escaped.

The robbery occurred between Galitzen and Cassandra while the train was in motion, two robbers having boarded the train when it stopped to drop the "helper," an engine which assists heavy passenger trains over mountain grades.

They climbed down over the coal in the tender and while the other two were at work in the mail car ordered the engineer to stop the train. This he did, and at almost the same moment, a series of shots sounded from the mail car just behind the engine.

One of the bandits upon boarding the car ordered the seven clerks at work there to throw up their hands. They complied and the bandit selecting Lantz demanded to know from him where the valuable mail was kept.

Lantz told them there was no valuable mail on board at which one of the bandits opened fire on him, shooting him through the legs.

KING'S ACTION ON INTERVIEW IS DISCUSSED

Official Circles in London Aroused Over Unprecedented Action

NORTHCLIFFE IN DENIAL

London, July 30.—(The sensational and unprecedented incident of a British sovereign rending in parliament through the prime minister an interview is given the greatest prominence in the official circles today.

Political circles had been able to talk of little else since Prime Minister Lloyd George appeared in the House of Commons yesterday and read the authorized statement of this king that the statement attributed to him concerning the government's Irish policy in a reported interview in the United States by Lord Northcliffe, was a complete fabrication.

The alleged interview quoted King George as saying to Premier Lloyd George just before his majesty left England to open the Ulster parliament:

"Are you going to shoot all the people in Ireland?"

The premier is said to have replied:

"No, your majesty."

"Well, then, you must come to some agreement with them," the king was quoted as saying. "This thing cannot go on. I cannot have my people killed in this manner."

The foregoing conversation appeared in an interview published in New York City July 25, attributed to H. W. Stead, editor of the London Times, who is traveling in America with Lord Northcliffe. It was given by Mr. Stead the day after his arrival from England and subsequently appeared in English papers attributed directly to Lord Northcliffe. The latter yesterday denied the reported interview.

British newspapers display the entire affair in great length and under large headlines. The papers controlled by Lord Northcliffe contained brief editorials calling attention to the denials of both King George and Lord Northcliffe.

SENATOR HITS PROPAGANDA

Washington, July 30.—Senator La Follette in the senate yesterday charged British shipping interests with "insidious propaganda hostile to the development of the American merchant marine."

OFFICERS CLOSE IN AT WILTON BOTH SIDES OF THE COUNTY LINE

Officers of McLean and Burleigh counties closed in on both sides of the county line in Wilton yesterday afternoon.

The result was one arrest on liquor law violation charges by the Burleigh county officers, one by the McLean county officers and several barrels of mash confiscated.

Two men, brothers, were arrested. They lived on opposite sides of the street in Wilton, one in Burleigh county and one in McLean county.

Sheriff Welch and Deputy Sheriff Kater closed in on the Burleigh county side. They searched the house of Jacob Halazuk. They got a still, a coil and some mash. Items closed in on the McLean county side. They arrested William Halazuk. They also confiscated some mash at other homes. No other arrests were made.

Before returning the Burleigh county officers searched the premises of Steve Murray, but found nothing.

The joint raid was arranged after complaints had been made that fourth was rather plentiful in Wilton.

Jacob Halazuk was given a preliminary hearing today and gave $1,000 bond to appear in district court.

BANDITS STEAL FROM WOUNDED

Chicago, July 30.—Chicago bandits invaded a government hospital at daybreak today and took all the money and cigarettes possessed by some of the veterans of the world war there.

RUSS TO FREE AMERICANS TO GET FOOD AID

Secretary Hoover's Conditions Accepted by the Soviet Government

INVITE NEGOTIATIONS

U. S. Senator Comes Out of Russia Still Favoring Trade Relations

Riga, July 30. (By the A. P.)—The offer of Herbert Hoover to aid Russia in relieving suffering due to famine on condition that all Americans now held prisoners in Russia be released has been accepted by the Russian authorities who suggest immediate negotiations in order to realize speedy assistance, according to a dispatch from the Rosta News agency of Moscow received here today.

The text of the reply made in the name of Leo Kamaeff, head of the nonpartisan-nonpolitical famine relief party is as follows:

"The Russian government upon learning of the proposals made by Herbert Hoover in the name of the American Relief Association, finds them quite acceptable including the release of Americans held prisoners.

"The Russian government considers it necessary to fix as soon as possible the exact conditions on which the immediate relations are to begin.

"Its humane intentions guarantee the feeding, medical and clothing of a million children and for this purpose the Russian government considers it useful that Director Brown or any other person authorized for the negotiations should immediately come to Moscow, Riga or Reval.

"The Russian Soviet government expects a quick reply stating the time and place for the negotiations."

Signed, Kamaeff

The American government representatives in Riga consider the note as constituting also an answer to the demand made by Secretary of State Hughes for the release of American prisoners in Russia.

Release Correspondent

Riga, July 30. (By the Associated Press.)—Mrs. Marguerite Harrison, of Baltimore, a newspaper correspondent who was among the American citizens held prisoner in Russia by the Soviet authorities arrived here this morning. The release of Mrs. Harrison was secured through U. S. Senator Joseph L. French, of Maryland, who has been on a visit to Soviet Russia to investigate conditions there and it was under his escort that Mrs. Harrison reached here today, the senator having concluded his Russian visit.

Senator France expressed surprise at the announcement just received from Moscow that Russia had agreed to release the American prisoners.

"It had not been decided at all that way when I left," the senator said.

Senator France's trip was an interesting one, he said.

"I still favor trade relations with Russia," the senator declared.

NO FREE RIDES FOR TRANSIENTS

Hoboes Must Pay is New Edict on the N. P.

A campaign against hoboes is to be started by the Northern Pacific railroad in North Dakota.

Although it was an announced intention of railroad officials not to interfere with honest transients riding freight trains seeking work in harvest fields, the privilege is said to have been abused and all trespassers on trains will be arrested, it is announced officially by the special agents of the railroad.

An accident in which a man lost a hand under a freight car this last week also was reported.

Workers seeking the harvest fields must pay the regular 35 cents per mile, the railroad officials declared.

GERMANY WILL MAKE PEACE ON U. S. RESOLUTION

Negotiations Proceeding Satisfactorily, German Authorities Announce

TO MAKE FORMAL TREATY

Porter-Knox Resolution is to be Basis of Reaching of Agreement

Berlin, July 30. (By the Associated Press.)—The German foreign office expressed belief that the negotiations which have been proceeding for the last three weeks between Ellis Loring Drexel, the American commissioner in Berlin, and Dr. Rosen, the foreign minister, have progressed sufficiently to warrant the conclusion that a general working basis has been established for the conclusion of a formal peace treaty between Germany and the United States at an early date.

It is understood in well informed quarters that the German government has assented to proposition submitted by the American state department in the way of informal inquiries based on the essential principles enunciated in the Porter-Knox peace resolution. None of these, it is said, had been opposed by the Wirth cabinet. The conclusions reached as a result of Mr. Drexel's negotiations are being formulated in the manner described by the Washington authorities and an official memorandum is forecast probably will be ready for publication in a few days.

It is expected that the convention will be informed of the exact time of the visit of Marshal Foch, of France, who has promised to visit the United States.

VALLEY CITY TEAM ON HAND FOR BIG GAMES

Three-Game Series Starts With Contest at Park This Evening at 6:15

MANDAN WINS, 3 TO 1

Valley City's fast baseball team came to Bismarck this morning from Mandan to play a three-game series. The first game to be called at 6:15 o'clock this evening, the second at the same time Saturday evening and the Sunday game at 3 o'clock.

In the best game played in Mandan this season, Mandan last evening defeated Valley City by a score of 3 to 1. It was a pitcher's battle between Pinch, who allowed but four hits, widely scattered and Goldsberry who allowed seven safeties. In the sixth inning Mandan touched Goldsberry for three hits in a row and two earned runs and in the seventh inning scored again on a hit, followed by clever base-stealing and a sacrifice hit.

Valley City scored its one run in the fifth inning when Gilbert singled, went to second on infield bunt which Wyatt beat out and scored when a boy picked up a passed ball and threw it to the catcher, Umpire McClelland allowing the score. Pinch struck out 7 and Goldsberry 3 men. Each pitcher walked one man.

The feature of the game was a wonderful leap made by Dean, Valley City, who leaped high in the air spearing Love's liner over second. Lehman, of Bismarck, played short for Mandan in place of LaTorre.

FANS: HELP TO SETTLE THIS PECULIAR PLAY

Here's a play in the Valley City-Mandan game yesterday which caused a lot of argument.

Valley City men were on first and on second. No one was out. The batter tried to hit the third strike and missed it. The ball rolled away from Catcher Roy Selbert of Mandan. A bat boy picked up the ball, probably 15 feet from the plate, tossed it to catcher Selbert who threw to first, the batter running. Selbert threw over first, and the man who was on second scored and the man who was on first went to third.

The umpire called the batter out because he missed the third ball strike, but allowed the man who was on second to score and the man who was on first to go to second.

What do you say fans! Some of the Bismarck players who say the game differ on the proper decision. One claims that the batter was out the instant he missed the third ball strike, that the ball went dead when the bat boy picked it up and that the men on bases should have been sent back to third and second. Another says the decision was right, that it was a blocked ball and the runners could run until the ball was returned to pitcher's box, but that the batter was out. Another says the batter was out but that the man on first and second should have been allowed to take second and third respectively, because they had started down when the bat boy interfered with the ball.

N. P. BALL TEAM AGAIN WINNER

The Northern Pacific baseball team won again from the Bank of North Dakota team last night, 16 to 13. The bank team was ahead, 13 to 11, until the last inning when the railroad team made five runs and won the game.

"RED" FABER LOOKS GOOD TO WIN 35 GAMES FOR WHITE SOX

URBAN FABER

BY DEAN SNYDER.

Out of the heat of the pennant fights a new wonder man has appeared.

He is Urban "Red" Faber, the White Sox pitcher who throws the speed ball splitter.

The astounding record which he has piled up thus far in the year already has won him the name of being the greatest pitcher of 1921.

Should he continue his pace during the remaining 70-odd games, he will surpass the feats which put the names of Christy Mathewson, Cy Young, Jack Chesbro, Eddie Plank, Chief Bender, Ed Walsh, Russ Ford, Jack Coombs, Mordcai Brown, "Smoky" Joe Wood and other lights of the yesterdays in the hall of baseball fame.

His Log Book.

For "Urban the Red" up to July 25 had won 20 games for the rebuilt Gleasonites with but six defeats. Over half the games the Sox have won are down in the records to the credit of the big sorrel-topped fellow.

Faber can slump in his pitching from now on and still make the haloed circle of 30 games won which all pitchers strive for.

And should he win 15 or possibly 30 games more—which is possible—he will have surpassed all records of the past.

While a team that has one pitcher who can win 30 or more games usually wins the pennant the Sox are likely to wind up in the cellar.

This fact makes Faber's record all the more marvelous.

With a team like the White Sox of 1920 how many games would Faber have won?

He has beaten the strongest clubs this year, including Cleveland and the Yanks, with a near-cellar ball club back of him.

But when Faber is in the box the Sox play like on new life, the old dobber slugs up and they play like champions.

Faber is to the Sox this year what Walter Johnson once was to Washington or what Grover Alexander was to the Phillies in his halcyon days.

The titian-haired splitter is not a kid any more. He is 33.

The White Sox bought him from Des Moines club in 1913.

He had his best year with the Sox in 1915 when he won 24 games and lost but 13. The Sox won the pennant and Faber was one of the big heroes of the world series.

Then came four years in which he did not bloom so brilliantly. He was slipping. Fans figured he was passing out of the spotlight.

Last year he staged a great comeback, winning 23 games and losing 13. With the start he already has this summer he should win 35 games at the least—unless he breaks his arm.

BRIGHT RED PURSES.

By Newspaper Enterprise.
New York, June 29.—Even purses are changing their lines. After a period of the handbag into which one dived and brought forth almost anything, we have arrived at the envelope purse.

The size of rather large dimensions and their fitness is a welcome change.

A note of brilliant color is often found in them. The fad just at present is for bright red, especially where the carrier is clad in gray.

Black suede envelope purses are also much used and many of them sport smart monograms in silver in their corner. For those who lean toward the loved magpie mode there are little black silk pocket books with white pearl mountings.

Government Specifications for Gasoline Do Not Mention Gravity

When the Government buys gasoline for Army or Navy use, it does not consider gravity. It specifies various temperatures at which definite amounts of the gasoline shall vaporize; in other words, it fixes the low and high boiling points, and specifies that the intermediate boiling point fractions must be so arranged as to boil off at the correct temperature to insure a maximum of service.

Red Crown

—the High-Grade Gasoline

Has a Perfect Chain of Boiling Point Fractions

Red Crown more than meets Government specifications. Its initial is about 40 degrees F. lower, meaning easier starting than the Government requires.

Red Crown has the correct range of boiling point fractions to insure quick getaway, smooth acceleration, and the correct range for tremendous power and speed. Red Crown is fast gas.

Red Crown is the best gasoline you can buy. It will give you better service, more power, more speed, and greater mileage per gallon. It is a waste of money to pay more than the price of Red Crown.

KILLDEER MOUNTAINS, AN HISTORICAL AND ATTRACTIVE REGION, OFFERS MANY BEAUTY SPOTS TO ATTRACT TOURIST

One of Greatest Indian Battles Fought in the Mountains when General Sully Attacked

GOOD ROADS LEAD THERE

Many Interesting Features of Mountains Are Explained By Writer

By Lorne Wilde, Deputy Immigration Commissioner of North Dakota, in North Dakota Good Roads Magazine.

About thirty miles straight north of Dickinson, one of the important towns on the National Parks Highway in North Dakota is the town of Killdeer and about twelve miles north west of Killdeer rises the rugged height of land known as the Killdeer Mountains. The rise of land is the most marked and precipitous to be found in the state. The mountains sweep abruptly up from the surrounding plains and afford a delightful break in the monotony of the vast stretch of plains from which they rise.

The mountains run from their nearest point to the town of Killdeer in two ranges known as the North Mountain and the South Mountain. There is a distinct break between the two—a beautiful sweeping valley—miles in extent. The South Mountain extends to the westward for eight or ten miles. The North Mountain is not so extensive.

Good Highway.
An excellent highway leads in almost a beeline straight north from Dickinson to Killdeer. This road is surfaced in large part with rose colored scoria a species of burnt clay found in abundance throughout the entire western half of North Dakota. It is said that this scoria was caused by the burning lignite mines which in ages past burned underneath the western plains but most of which have burned themselves out although there are some burning mines still to be found in western North Dakota.

The Killdeer Mountains abound in beautiful scenery and there are many opportunities for sight seeing trips around and through both the North and South Mountains. This mountain is also a place of unusual historic interest as it was the scene of one of the greatest Indian battles fought in the West. In 1864 General Sully of Minnesota brought an army of soldiers into the western part of North Dakota in pursuit of several thousand Sioux Indians, following the Minnesota-Massacre. The Indians made their last stand in the Killdeer Mountains and a hard fought battle ensued.

This battle was fought in the vicinity of Dead Man's Gulch and this spot is undoubtedly the point of greatest interest to tourists. The top of the Mountain at this point is rocky and precipitous and Dead Man's Gulch is a heavily wooded ravine running down from this natural rocky fortification to the plains below. The combination of rocks and the wooded ravine afforded great shelter and excellent protection to the retreating Indians, and it was with difficulty that they were finally dislodged. It was necessary for General Sully to bring his artillery into use and shell the Indians out of the ravine and from their fortification.

Lookout Signals.
The reason the Indians made their stand here was because they had a great ledge or village along the mountain side. One account of the battle states that it was necessary to shell this village where the Indians had hundreds of tepees and the Indians had great difficulty getting their women and children to the mountains to a place of safety. Following the battle the Indians by a ruse are said to have stampeded the horses of the white troops in the night and made their escape in the consequent delay. They packed their belongings with their women and children on ponies and made their way over the mountain finally reaching the Bad Lands along the Little Missouri through which the white troops followed them with difficulty.

One of the interesting features of the Mountain in this vicinity is Lookout Signal a circular mound of stones which was used by the Indians as a fire signal. This signal is several feet in extent made of stones laid in circular form in the center of which there is a hole about three feet across in which fires were built to warn the tribe of approaching danger or other matters of tribal interest. During the day time the fire was covered and partially smothered with a blanket. When a message was to be sent the blanket would be suddenly removed and quickly replaced the resultant puffs of smoke indicating by their number certain messages known only to the tribe. At night the fire was kept burning by certain hours which likewise conveyed the same messages by the smoke by day. The circular form of the rock was to prevent the fire from getting beyond control during windy weather. Part of this rock used as a Lookout Signal has been removed by tourists as souvenirs. This Lookout Signal rock is on the highest point of the mountain and among one of the very few remaining relics of the Northwest of a fast disappearing race.

From the rocky ridge of the top of Dead Man's Gulch a great sweeping valley swings away to the north formed by a curve in the mountain. This valley is heavily wooded and comprises a tract of over a thousand acres of excellent forest. This forest at one time provided unexcelled protection for deer antelope elk mountain sheep and many other wild animals including bears and mountain lions.

Has Many Springs.

It contains numerous mountain springs which run continuously up at the year and is a veritable swan paradise for camping parties, picnics and pleasure seekers. It is almost the entire area of the country where the children of the country have spent week end here in the summer and fall months. One point was noted by at least 400 people coming for hundreds of miles. It is the last stronghold of the old traditions of the pure wild west. It was in fact in those early times the end of the trail along which came the vast herds of chinking long horns from distant and more and plums of Texas. Here still the strenuous sports of the cow-puncher are the main attraction on all festive occasions. It is the last of the west but will always be associated with the old golden days when each man carved out his own destiny with six-shooter and branding iron regardless of social amenities and legal restrictions.

An effort is now being made to have the Killdeer Mountains made into a State or National Park and it is done it will again be stocked with the wild animals elk deer and possibly mountain sheep which once found their natural home there. The ravines which cut through this valley caused by the springs and the consequent water way have proved to be a paradise for hundreds of beaver and it is doubtful if any section of North Dakota has more beaver dams than the Killdeer Mountains. Some of the dams built by the beaver show remarkable engineering skill and a tremendous amount of industry. One dam in particular which the writer visited and which had been abandoned as the water had been drained out probably the work of a trapper was a fine specimen of high skill in its construction and it was ten feet wide at the top to sixty feet wide at the bottom. Like all beaver dams this dam was built in the form of an arch with the apex pointing up stream.

Series of Dams.
In other instances the beavers built a series of fifteen or twenty dams at various intervals along the streams thus forming a series of ponds. One above the other up the mountain side. Many of these are to be seen yet and these series of shaded ponds rising one above the other through the forest make a scene of quiet and liveliness difficult to describe and never to be forgotten.

From the extreme southern end of the mountains here are heights which permit a view stretching for miles over tree clad hills and grass carpeted valleys away in the far distance to the remarkable form known as the Bad Lands along the Little Missouri which skirts the foothills of the mountains to the north and west.

This is an abundance of timber in all of the ravines and in every direction from the mountains. This timber consists of oak aspen cottonwood white birch diamond willow box elder elm ash besides a great variety of beautiful and useful shrubs such as buffalo berry June berries dogwood currant plums.

Most Interesting Natural Play Grounds.

One of the most interesting natural play grounds in the central West and are well worth a visit by the tourist. To reach the Killdeer Mountains the motor tourist leaves the National Parks Highway at Dickinson and drives to the top of the mountain. There are many interesting points of view from the top of the mountain. The most interesting is the view of the valley below. The valley is heavily wooded and comprises a tract of over a thousand acres of excellent forest. This forest at one time provided unexcelled protection for deer antelope elk mountain sheep and many other wild animals including bears and mountain lions.

"SIT TALL" IS ADVICE OF OSTEOPATH

Cleveland, Ohio, July 29.—Too many women sit down and grow old, declared Dr. Frances Graves of Boston in a paper which she read today in the National Osteopathic convention in this city. Sit tall, she urged, is the remedy proposed by Dr. Graves, and she told the specialists how to do it. Dr. Graves said in part:

It comes wise to instruct women that if they had normal lives they may look forward to a normal and old life. It is not a normal life for a woman to sit down to sitting the greater part of the day. The normal life is a life lived by too little or no exercise and too much food. So many women sit down to grow old. They welcome old age long before they have any right to. Some of the medical textbooks tell us that at fifty old age has been reached but I refuse to admit that. Do all women sit down into their bodies and grow heavy about the waist line shoulders and neck. Is all this necessary? Most assuredly no. Not if the woman makes enough to prevent it, in other words, to lead a normal life.

The great thing if one would have a normal life is to keep the circulation active. The whole body should be in perfect adjustment so that in the brain is put on any one part. Regular and sufficient exercise must be given every day that the patient is physically able. Sweats and stretches should be practically eliminated from the diet. No sitting down for the afternoon with a book and a candy. No more protein than is needed to balance the diet. The diet should be rich in fresh fruit green vegetables and raw foods. In fact the diet should consist of such a type and in such quantities that the body may receive a surplus of food and in a normal life many times have to stop eating.

There are two faulty types of posture. The first is the very often. The second is the more often seen faulty individual. This is the exact opposite of the slouch. The first is a posture with the knees curved and the feet under the shoulders. The second is the posture with the neck shortened. This posture most invariably has a large hump in the shoulders.

In the individual should push the back against the back of the chair. This is all that is necessary. This position is held for a few minutes and the back will be straight. We do not go to the gymnasium which makes a posture of the back of the body. It is a second nature.

The average woman sits down to the house work. There is no exercise in the house work. The average woman sits down to the house work. There is no exercise in the house work. The average woman sits down to the house work. There is no exercise in the house work.

LORNE WILDE TELLS IMPRESSIONS OF NEW SALEM BOOSTER TRIP

(By Lorne Wilde, Department of Immigration)

Well it is good bye to the cows a bust. I've heard these cows a reach district. If you want to know the cows we've seen. Well tell the world she is old Holstein. She fills the buckets to the brim. She is neither fat nor thin. I tell you by gosh this time is all right. So put your money on the black and white.

So sang the Nutcracker of Mandan when recently in company with several hundred business men professional men and farmers from Mandan Bismarck Steele and other towns along the Northern Pacific Railroad they visited the famed New Salem Holstein Breeding place. A year ago bet by heck they did find out.

Some years ago Uncle Sam grassed a big blue pencil in his strong right hand and he drew a line across the United States, from the Canadian boundary to the Gulf of Mexico. The line was on the one hundredth meridian. If you take a map of North Dakota you will see that this line runs directly through Rugby on the Great Northern just a few miles west of Harvey on the Soo and just west of Steele on the Northern Pacific.

Through his experts in the United States department of agriculture Uncle Sam said it was not safe to grow wheat anywhere west of that line and east of the Rocky Mountains because in some years there would not be enough moisture to mature a wheat crop.

This of course brought forth a line of protest from those sections of the United States within this prescribed area for within that section and especially its eastern border were great farming districts which had raised enormous yields of wheat. Within that area were thousands of farmers bankers and business men who believed that Uncle Sam had made a serious mistake and they were not slow to tell the world what they thought.

Wheat Unsuccessful.
But as year after year goes by and that section sees one wheat crop after another burned up by hot winds and lack of moisture, it is beginning to get to a point where even the most ardent wheat fan in the district will admit that perhaps Uncle Sam had some foundation for his dictum. The slope has surrendered. Its citizens have thrown up their hands and now admit that to depend on wheat year after year as the staple crop of the slope country is wrong.

The slope has found it at New Salem. The answer is pure bred cows. Everybody in North Dakota has heard about the New Salem Holstein breeders circuit. It has been in existence for several years and has proved a success.

But mark this down North Dakota and especially the slope country has just discovered the New Salem circuit and what it really means. (Came Here in '83.)

The men who originated and worked out the North Dakota Holstein Breeders circuit at New Salem came to the state in 1883. The account of how this colony, composed of a group of people of little means who had been working for wages in a big eastern city came to settle at New Salem because of the cheap land obtainable there is an interesting story in itself. Like so many others who settled the great plains section they had years of struggle for one reason or another a lack of sufficient capital but more largely because they persistently stuck to small grain raising.

It was in the early part of the present century that they came to the conclusion that the dairy cow was their one salvation. How they went into the dairy business in a small way how they slowly developed their herds from scrubs to grades and from grades to pure bred is still another interesting story that would take too long in the telling.

Suffice it to say that in 1910 largely through the efforts of J. H. Shepherd, of the North Dakota Agricultural college, the North Dakota Holstein Breeding circuit in North Dakota.

Fourteen members finished the first year's official test in 1910. That year there were 32 pure bred cows on the circuit. In 1921 there are 24 pure bred females.

Has It Paid?
The big question in the mind of every visitor to the circuit was "Do they get the answer?"

There are several members of this circuit. They have 1440 acres of modern homes and electric lights. Many of them have machinery in their barns with milking machines and good barns and seventeen farms are going and that is not members who are business. The circuit is a terrific and surprising success.

The average cow on the circuit has been kept in the hands of the circuit for an average of 10 years. The average cow on the circuit has been kept in the hands of the circuit for an average of 10 years.

cost per cow was $8.50. The average profit of $11.10 per cow. These are not a peculiar result. No attempt has ever been made at New Salem to establish fancy prices. These men are not fancy cattle speculators. They are farmers willing to sell their cows at a fair price. They have never sold a cow for more than $100. Yet they have had surprisingly good results.

Cattle Experts Surprised.
There were two men who participated in the big show at New Salem who were especially fitted to pass judgment on this experiment at New Salem. Both were more or less disinterested spectators. These men were Bertram D. Scott secretary of the Minnesota Holstein Breeders Association and J. R. Dice, professor of dairying at the North Dakota Agricultural college.

While Mr. Dice is connected with the Agricultural college under whose auspices this circuit was established and is still being conducted it was his first visit to New Salem as he is a comparative newcomer to the state. He came to North Dakota from New York two years ago.

I was very much surprised, said Mr. Dice speaking of his visit to New Salem. I had heard a great deal of the New Salem circuit of course and was prepared to see some good herds but I did not expect to find as good average herds as there are at New Salem.

These herds would rank up on a par with the average Holstein herds of the country.

Mr. Scott is the secretary of one of the greatest Holstein breeding organizations in the world. He also had come prepared to see something pretty good but he was frankly astonished at the splendid results these western farmers are getting without putting forth any special effort and pasturing their cattle on these dry plains away from shade and with little water.

In a short address, which Mr. Scott gave during the day he congratulated New Salem and the slope country on the showing. There are 24,000,000 dairy cows in the United States, he said. They give an average yield of production of 150 pounds of butter fat. Your cows here are giving about 100 pounds of fat per year which is doubling the average production for the United States. I will say that this is a splendid showing.

I like the spirit that is manifest here today. We should have more of it. I think the business men from the cities who have come out here will take away a new hope and a new inspiration after seeing such fine results as these farmers are getting. I also think they will leave with these farmers a new hope and a new inspiration. The men back of this circuit will now go about their work with an added zest knowing that there are hundreds of their fellows who are taking a real personal interest in what they are accomplishing here.

The New Salem circuit is largely the result of the persistent effort of J. H. Shepherd now dean of agriculture at the North Dakota Agricultural college. He worked with the members of the circuit for two or three years before he induced them to go into it and it has been one of his

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Siefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pottsville, Pa. I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial.—Mrs. SALLIE SIEFERT, 314 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa.

The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Siefert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

STRIKE EFFECT
The calamitous effects of the great coal strike on British industry are shown by the following figures: The production of pig iron in May, this year, was 13,600 tons as against 739,000 tons in May, 1920.

EQUAL RIGHTS
The final barrier to equal rights for women in Canada has been removed. The Canadian Pacific Railway has reserved smoking compartments for the exclusive use of women on all its trains. It is to be hoped that the conversational standard will be higher in these women's compartments than it is in the men's.

GIRLS
"Men look only for beauty," said a despondent girl in Baltimore. "They don't care if a girl is good, self-respecting and a real home-maker." But is this true? Modesty is held in higher respect than ever, if for no other reason than the seeming prevalence of immodesty. And homes successfully made still exceed greatly the number of homes wrecked by divorce.

CUSSING
An Indiana woman, haled into court for using profanity, told the judge she was the mother of 14 small children and had to take in washing to support her family. Anyone who had as hard a life as that, she contended, had a right to cuss a little.

The judge agreed that SHE had. But what about you, neighbor? Do you keep your tongue leashed except under difficulties equally as great?

VACATIONS /
They are lucky young fellows who have been accepted for service in the civilian army training camps. These lads are getting vacations that count.

Vacations passed in listless loafing, as so many are, leave their victims worse off than they were before.

Vacation does not mean a mental vacuum. It is most beneficial and most enjoyed when it consists of a change rather than a total cessation of activities.

YOUR ROAD TO RICHES
Here's a man who, at 33, has worked himself up from stenographer to treasurer of the $100,000,000 company that supplies Chicago with gas. His name is George F. Mitchell.

What is it that has made Mitchell rise so rapidly to success while other men, who started on the same footing and with just as good chances, have stood still?

This question interests you, groping for the door to power and wealth.

Its answer is—ability, good workmanship, thoroughness to the last detail, and patient toil to acquire knowledge.

At 14, Mitchell went to work for a steel mill. Three years later, he was taking a business and stenographic course by day and paying his way by "carrying a spear" and shifting theater scenery at night.

He rose to success because he did every job well, no matter how humble, and because he constantly trained himself so that whenever something better came along he was prepared to handle it.

At 43, Carl Nyquist is handling $140,000,000 worth of property. He's vice president of the Rock Island railroad, and one of the youngest railroad executives in America.

"Luck? There's no such thing," says he. "I started at 19 as a $15-a-week clerk. How to succeed? Here's my way:

"I made my work the most interesting and important thing in my life. I didn't change employers. I haven't taken a vacation in 15 years. And in 24 years I've missed only five days from my job. Make your work successful and your work will make you successful."

When John D. Rockefeller organized the Standard Oil Company in 1870, he was only 31 years old.

Despite his youth, he already was a big success, with his first million dollars within reach if not already in his pocket.

Fifteen years before that, when he was 16, Rockefeller was a clerk in a commission house on old Water street, Cleveland.

Today he is the richest man in the world. Thousands of reasons have been advanced to account for his success. The real one was voiced years ago by the people that employed him in his early youth:

"He was the best clerk and bookkeeper we ever had."

The same is true of every job Rockefeller ever turned his hand to. If you doubt it, ask his competitors.

It is not given to all of us to become Rockefellers, Mitchells and Nyquists.

But each of us can attain success to a satisfactory degree by observing three simple rules:

FIRST: Do every job thoroughly as it comes along.

SECOND: While making the immediate job a success, lay out a campaign for the future and prepare yourself to handle a better job when it comes.

THIRD: Save your money so you can finance opportunity when it arrives.

VACATIONS
"Where'll I spend my vacation?" You've asked yourself the question a hundred times. You've studied folders from mountain and seaside resorts, summer hotels, jazz resorts and excursions.

When some of America's most famous men—Edison, Ford and Firestone—wanted a rest, they went back to nature, in a portable camp in the woods.

There's a tip for you in that. For after all, there's nothing so refreshing as a quiet night under the stars, a sizzling meal over a campfire and a sparkling drink from "an old oaken bucket."

FORESTS
The United States Chamber of Commerce has undertaken the job of arousing the public and the government to the danger involved in depleting our forests without making proper provision for scientific reforestation.

The fundamentals of the forestry proposition are that in the past seventy years we have exhausted about three-quarters of our forests and are now depleting the quarter that is left four and a half times as fast as it is being restored.

At the present rate of depletion lumber will be one of the luxuries for the next generation.

The only thing that can save the situation is an aroused public sentiment that will force federal and state governments to give to this subject the immediate and continuing attention that its importance deserves.

CHEAPER MOTORING
Long distance auto racing is proving that the small gas engine revolving at high speed develops as much power as larger engines—and has equal stamina. This means cheaper motoring, for the smaller engine, the less gasoline it uses. The 183-cubic-inch engine has demonstrated that it can do the work heretofore done by engines of much larger size. The result will be that many pleasure cars and trucks inevitably will be equipped with the small, high-speed motors.

MADE CLEAN FIGHT
On Tuesday at Bismarck the people voted on the proposition of issuing thirty thousand dollars worth of bonds for an incinerator, added fire equipment and a few other things which in the opinion of a majority of the people were unnecessary. The Bismarck Tribune made a clean fight against the proposition, claiming that the city was now taxed heavy enough and that these added burdens were not needed. The people of the capital city thought the same way as the Tribune and very decisively voted against the bonds.—Valley City Times Record.

THE JUDGE AND HIS PLACE
Former President Taft is too kindly a man and too tolerant of human frailty to make it probable that he had any particular judge in mind when he recently indicated that there were certain limits beyond which a man occupying a judicial place could not with propriety go, but a certain Federal jurist who was induced to accept a highly-paid position in the realm of professional sports might well ponder them. Following his appointment as chief justice of the United States supreme court Mr. Taft wrote the editor of a Philadelphia newspaper that it would thus be necessary to cease his work as a contributor to the paper. He said:

The degree in which a judge should separate himself from general activities as a citizen is not usually fixed by statutory law but by due sense of propriety, considering the nature of his office, and by well-established custom. . . . A judge should avoid extra-judicial activities, not only because they may put him in an attitude actually or seemingly inconsistent with absolute impartiality in the discharge of his judicial duties, but also because he owes his whole time and energy to his judicial work.

Fortunately this fine attitude is that taken by most American people. The few exceptions who lack that sense of propriety should have it supplied by statutory law.—Duluth Herald.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts

Nancy, Nick and Sprinkle-Blow watched to see what would happen. Marty Mink was down on the bottom of the pool watching his chance to reach up and grab Blackie Bass. While Cob Coon in the willow tree overhead was going to grab him from above, neither knowing that the other was there. Cob Coon had one hand in the water by this time, reaching down and down. "This is the place!" he kept whispering to himself. "I ought to know, for I've watched Blackie for years and he always stays in the same spot, except in winter. Ha!" he cried out all at once. "I've got something. I've got him!" But suddenly his smile faded. "Here you, Blackie, don't bite me that way!" he yelled. "They hold on, don't pull so hard! I didn't know you could pull so. Oh, I'm shippings! Leggo, Blackie! Help! Help! Oh, he—I—I—p!"

The last word was just a gurgle for Cob went splash-right down into the creek, the muddy water closing over the top of his head. Just then there was a huffing and a putting up in the sky and West Wind blew the clouds away from Mr. Moon's round face. Mr. Moon shut off from his view of the world so long, was more curious than ever to see what was going on and glowed as brightly as he could. This is one thing he saw. Great rings were spreading themselves rapidly over the top of Willow-Trees Pool where Blackie Bass lived; then suddenly in the middle of the rings the water spouted up like a great geyser, splashing the ground for yards around. The next instant two furry figures appeared. Man could wait an eternity and be as guiltless of hunches as the day he was born. He lacks that delicate sense which can gather things out of the atmosphere and put them to practical use. As a hunch getter he is a failure, so if the New York detective force is to work by intuition each detective will have to have his feminine hunch transmitter. (All of which might be interesting to the detective but expensive for the people.) Woman is a born hunch getter. She swears by her intuition, cooks by it, dresses by it, plays the market and matrimony by it. It's a hunch that tells her there is an apple in Johnny's desk and that a mere phrase.—Maurice F. Egan, former U. S. minister to Denmark.

PEOPLES FORUM

Bismarck, N. D. July 30, 1921
Editor Bismarck Tribune:
Thursday's issue of your paper contained a letter signed by a tax payer in which he, or she, intimated that the city of Bismarck is paying the electric company for current used by the street lights on a flat rate. This does not seem possible as I have noticed upon several occasions that a good share of the street lights were not burning at all. It is true that at times they might have all been out of commission but surely, the city does not have to pay for current when none is being used. However, if this is the case, it is time that citizens took some real interest in the matter and inquired into the city's expenditures. We do not want the electric company to just money and we do not want to pay for current that we do not get. We have noticed that the light service given by the White Way in the downtown district is very good. If this is on account of the fact that the White Way is on a meter, then it would not be unfair to suggest that the lights furnished the city be placed upon a meter. Thanking you for allowing the people the use of your paper to discuss this matter, I am Yours very truly she may have it for the smiling. It's a hunch that tells her to wear a certain frock and adjust the floor lamp just so on a certain evening. And it's by the subtle art of this same hunch-getting propensity that she reads into the words of Tom's telegram that the time is not propitious for the sporting of the new green velvet hat. Though the telegram was nothing more than the announcement of the fact that Tom would arrive on a certain train at a certain time—intuitively she knows, as she reads the words, that Tom isn't in the right mood for forty-dollar hats.

The world smiles tolerantly at the mention of woman's intuition. But woman's intuition rarely fails. Because consciously or unconsciously all human impulses are born in the heart or actuated by emotion—a fact men deny but women acknowledge.

Woman's intuition is the translation of the human heart.

WOMAN'S INTUITION
Is the Translation of the Human Heart

By Ruth Agnes Abeling
That little Giuseppe Varratta, kidnapped New York baby, is safe in his mother's arms is a matter of a woman's intuition. While men members of the detective force were following their reason and failing on the case, Ray Nicoletti, the only patrol-woman of Italian descent on the Gotham force, followed her intuition straight to the kidnappers' door and brought back little Giuseppe.

When reason failed, intuition won. A woman's hunch proved of more value than all of the deductions trained masculine minds could make. There is a thought of irony in that. And one begins to speculate on whether or not the New York detective force will find its reason in tissue paper, tie it with pink ribbons, put it away in lavender and then till back its chairs, swing up its feet and wait for a hunch to seize it. But there's the pity of it. The masculine mind is hunch-proof. So long has the be-trousered individual lived by his reason—or what he called his reason—that his mind is not sensitively receptive to the hunch, or intuitive suggestions.

Man could wait an eternity and be as guiltless of hunches as the day he was born. He lacks that delicate sense which can gather things out of the atmosphere and put them to practical use. As a hunch getter he is a failure, so if the New York detective force is to work by intuition each detective will have to have his feminine hunch transmitter. THE TEACHER
Dedicated to E
The teacher of our district school. Was what we called a perfect jewel. She boarded at our house you know. So she'd not have so far to go. And in the evenings after church. Were done and we were all in doors. We all would gather roundabout. To hear what Teacher told about.

Now, teacher sure had traveled, gee! She'd been to London and Paris. She'd visited the Pope in Rome. At least she said she saw his home. And all us kids sat 'round wide-eyed. A-listen! And we'd decide. When we were grown we'd visit too. Those places which the teacher knew.

The teacher sure knew how to play. And often at the close of day. At the piano she would sit. And play us many a rag-time hit. And then, sometimes in solemn mood. She'd play some wondrous interlude. Or great creation of some harp. And we would listen mighty hard.

One day our mother said: "my dear I've wondered why you were sent here. When with your talents and your grace. You could have filled a higher place: Of course we were glad to have you still.

Please tell the reason, if you will. Why, you, who are a perfect jewel Should teach our humble district school."

And never till the day I die Will I forget that girl's reply. "I love the country, and I know The country doesn't stand a show. As far as teachers are concerned; For those who feel that they are learned.

Refuse to teach the district schools. And look on those who do as fools. But I was once a teacher's child. And with these words she sweetly smiled.

I promised God if I would live The very best in me I'd give. And thus my gratitude I'd show And pay the debt of love I owe. To those brave souls who paved the way.

To all I know and am this day And thus I am content to rule. As teacher of our district school. Florence Borner

SWIMMING POOL IS FORMALLY GIVEN TO CITY AND KIDMEN TAKE FIRST SPLASH IN TANK

Pool. Then there was a desire on our part to do something in a constructive way for Bismarck, Our Own Home Town. We do not want to leave the impression that this Elks alone are responsible for this pool, but we do want to extend due credit, acknowledge our appreciation and express our thanks to every man and woman and every boy and girl who has generously helped to put this proposition over.

"There were many special instances of interest and generosity I would like for you to know, if they could be recited without disclosing a confidence or causing embarrassment, but I do want to especially thank the individual Elks, who not only helped in a financial way, but gave generously and willingly their time, their work and their enthusiasm.

"When the City Commission kindly gave us their permission to build this pool on city property, it was agreed that we would at its completion turn the pool over to the City free of debt and that thereafter its government and maintenance would be assumed by the City Commission for the City—there being only one proviso, and that is that the pool is to be free to boys and girls under sixteen years of age.

"The pool is practically complete, but since we have raised about $8,500 and the cost will be about $11,000.00, there will be a deficit of approximately $2,500.00, which it will be necessary for the Elks Lodge to pay and it will also be necessary for us to reimburse our Treasury in some way. However, while we will promise not to put any more direct drives for funds, you probably will be asked to patronize various forms of entertainment, the proceeds of which will be used for making up this deficit.

"Mayor Lenhart, on behalf of the members of Bismarck Lodge No. 1199 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, I have the honor and the pleasure of handing you this key and formally presenting to you this Pool for the people of Bismarck and we hope it will be a source of enjoyment for all the men and women and boys and girls of our City."

Commission Accepts

Mr. Lenhart said:

"The citizens of Bismarck and the city commission accept this splendid swimming pool with a great deal of pleasure and with confidence that it means much to the youth of our city, its successful completion stands as a monument to the public spirit and ability of the officers and members of Bismarck Lodge No. 1199. Benevolent Protective Order of Elks. It represents the generous and progressive spirit of all of the city, many of whom have made sacrifices in order to contribute to the swimming pool fund.

"The city commission in welcoming this splendid effort of the Elks as an organization and of all the citizens who cooperated believes that the pool will provide a place not only for enjoyment of the youth and adults of the city but is a long step forward in the improvement of the moral as well as physical being of our boys and girls by giving them a wholesome place for recreation. It is one of the biggest and most important things that the citizens of the city have done in the matter of the public welfare. Too often in the past the community has been saddened by news that a little boy in search of recreation has lost his life in the river or a deep hole in the creek. Let us hope that with the completion of the swimming pool the community will not have to again feel this wave of sadness.

"We have a splendid recreation spot, a part of Custer park. There is great possibility for the development of Custer park into one of the beauty spots of the city. Let the boys and girls and citizens remember that the swimming pool is the pool of all the citizens and to not only maintain it in good condition but to cooperate in improving it."

Elks Lead Way

The Elks who led the way in building the pool hope that now, since it really is a municipal swimming pool, that everybody will feel an interest in it and improve it and maintain it as it should be.

"It is probable that the Elks, in conjunction with other citizens, will beautify the ground when the ground around the pool is settled. Trees and shrubs will be planted, with a lawn in front of the bath-house fronting on Broadway. An arbor may be erected on the open court between the water and the bath-house, and vines trailed over it, providing shade. While the Elks are turning the pool over to the city, P. R. Fields, head of the lodge, emphasized the fact that the Elks do not intend to lose interest in it, and will do anything the lodge can do as an organization to improve or beautify the place.

Praise Citizens

Praise for the aid and generosity of the citizens and individuals in the project was given today by Mr. Fields in his talk. Not only were there liberal contributions from citizens—men, women and children—but many voluntarily labored on the pool and many merchants gave materials at cost. No individual names of donors have been made public but many interesting stories of sacrifice could be told by the Elks committee were they permitted to do so.

"The pool was built under the direction of a building committee of Elks composed of Robert Welch, chairman; E. V. Lahr, A. W. Lucas, C. W. McGraw and J. P. French. S. W. Merrick was general chairman of the organization. P. R. Fields, as exalted ruler of the lodge, was director-general of operations and L. K. Thompson, lodge secretary, gave valuable aid. The enthusiastic and efficient supervision of the building of the swimming pool by John L. Larson is praised by the committee.

for the apostles and scores of other biblical figures who participate in the play. Although the cast will not be elected by the directors of the play until October, young women who have distinguished themselves in other religious plays given by the Oberammergau folk are fashioning simple robes suitable for the role of Mary in the hope that they will be chosen to enact the part of Jesus' mother, the highest honor which can come to an Oberammergau woman.

The great auditorium which shelters spectators of the Passion Play is a wooden structure supported by steel trusses. It has seats for 4,000 persons, arranged much after the plan of a modern opera house. When the play is offered one end of the auditorium is removed entirely, and the stage stands at some distance from the end of the buildings, in such a position that the mountains furnish a background for the setting. The audience is entirely sheltered in case of rain and the main part of the stage has a glass roof.

Even among the children of Oberammergau the reverence for the Passion Play is very marked and in imitation of their elders they are constantly acting in the hope of being chosen for important roles in the production given every ten years.

As good character is insisted upon as the basic requirement for participation in the play, the danger of being debarred from a part in the historic spectacle is held constantly over the village children and is a far better corrective influence than the bogeys invented for most children.

FAST GAME ON LOCAL LOT TO VALLEY CITY

Bismarck Loses, 3 to 1, in First
Of a Three-Game Series

PLAY TODAY AND SUNDAY

Valley City took a clean, fast game from Bismarck, 3 to 1, last evening. The game was marked by fine fielding of both sides. Everett Dean, Valley City second baseman, played spectacularly, and Ellis, Collins and Lehman, Bismarck outfielders, got hands for fine work in the field. Valley took the lead in the third inning and Bismarck fans pulled hard for the team to overcome the lead. Ernster, Valley pitcher, was in hot water a number of times but he pulled out in all but one inning, when one run was scored. Each side got a number of men on bases and the fans were on their toes all of the time. There was practically no rag-chewing and Valley City's clean playing won a lot of commendation. Valley City got her three runs in the third. Kaplan singled, Ernster sacrificed, Klein singled to center, scoring Kaplan and taking second on the throw in. Dean singled to right sending Klein to third and taking second on the throw in. Schanlaub singled to right, scoring Klein and Dean. The next batter went out, third to first, ending the Valley scoring for the game.

Locals Score One. The local club got a run in the fourth. Ellis and Harper took the free route to first. Mel Anderson got a two-bagger to right, Ellis scoring and Harper being thrown out at the plate.

Ernster of Valley got out of a bad hole in the fifth. Higgins doubled down the left field foul line, Coble fanned. Nichols singled to center, Higgins reaching third. Collins also took a pass to first, loading up the bags. Lehman fanned and Wingfield flied to center ending a promising frame for Bismarck.

Keep After Him. The Bismarck club kept after Ernster and had him apparently starting to blow up several times but he held together and the Valley team put the old game in the bag.

The two teams play again at 6:15 this evening and at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and good, fast games are assured. The Valley City team is one of the most aggressive fielding teams seen here, being much strengthened since its previous visit.

UMPIRE WRONG SAYS 'OLD TIMER' OF MANDAN PLAY

Sporting Editor of Tribune

A little information by an "old-timer" on that disputed play at Mandan the other day might be of interest to the fans. The umpire was wrong in his decision and Selbert, the catcher, evidently was not familiar with the rules or he would not have thrown the ball in the old days when the game had such peerless backstops as "Buck" Ewing "King" Kelly, Lewis Kriger and others of the same calibre. It frequently happened that with men on first and second or on first alone, the catcher would intentionally drop the third strike, pick the ball up, shoot it to either third or second as the play presented, forcing the runner, of course, and then the ball was sent over to second or first again ahead of the runner. This play often resulted in a double play. If it did not result in a double play it killed off the runner nearest home at least.

This play was pulled very often so the rules were changed to do away with this trick play. A rule was adopted that put the batter out automatically when first base, or first and second, or first, second and third base were full, whether the catcher caught the third strike or not. In this disputed play at Mandan the umpire should have permitted the men on bases to advance one base only. The rule covering a "blocked" or "dead ball" covers that point. In this play the fact that the batter tried to bunt on the third strike should not be considered at all as it has no bearing on the play. It was the third strike with a man on first, so he was out automatically. The bat boy picking the ball up less than 90 feet from the plate made the ball "dead" or "blocked." This entitled the runner to advance one base. It also suspended play until the pitcher got the ball and stood in his box. When the catch-

HEILMAN DOESN'T SLUMP

HARRY HEILMAN.

Harry Heilman, slugging outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, is going at a terrific clip.

Week after week he has led American League batters.

Th big fellow doesn't seem to know that there is such a thing as the word "slump" in baseball.

Averages compiled up to and including July 2 give Harry a mark of .429.

er threw over the baseman's head the game had been "called" automatically by the bat boy when he touched the ball. The "blocked ball" rule applies solely in this play and this gives the runner one base. The regulation playing field requires the stands and benches to be not less than 90 feet from home plate. This makes a blocked ball impossible excepting that the ball hit the umpire. It goes without saying that the bat boys also pick up the bats only and let the balls to be handled by the players. There has been many a good ball game spoiled by such decisions as the one this umpire rendered. An umpire should know the rules of the game. It is only natural to expect the umpire to make a wrong decision on a close play or on balls and strikes, but he should be familiar with the playing rules at least. Good umpiring is at least 50 per cent of the game, and only men who are entirely familiar with the game should attempt to umpire games such as we are having here. It's a thankless task in a "Bum League" and the man that gets away with the job best, is the man that knows the game, calls the plays as he sees them, and stands for no slush from the players.

AN OLD TIMER.

RUN HONOR ALSO IN BABE'S HANDS IN BIG LEAGUES

Home Run Slugger Passes Century Mark in Number of Runs Scored

KELLY IS BACK IN STRIDE

Chicago, July 30.—Babe Ruth, baseball's home run king, has the distinction of being the first player in the major leagues to pass the century mark this season in runs scored. The American League slugger has registered 101 times for the Yankees. In the National League Frank Frisch of the Giants leads in runs scored with 77, according to averages released today which include games of last Wednesday.

Ruth batted out only three singles in the four Yankee games since compilation of the last averages, but stretched his total base record to 259 bases. This total is the result of 113 hits, which include his 36 home runs, which are unchanged from a week ago, 24 doubles and 7 triples. Ruth is batting .355.

Harry Heilmann, the slugging outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, was the only member of the leading seven batters, who have played in 55 or more games, who added to his mark of a week ago. He added one point and is heading the list with an average of .430. Ty Cobb, pilot of the Tigers, dropped a point, but continued to trail his outfielder with an average of .389, while Tris Speaker, manager of the world's champion Indians, slumped three notches and is just behind the Georgia peach with .381.

S. Harris of Washington added a brace of stolen bases to his string, and is showing the way to the base stealers with 19. His closest rival is George Sisler, the St. Louis star, who is trailing with 16.

Other leading batters:

Tobin, St. Louis .378; Severid, St. Louis .366; Williams, St. Louis .362; Veach, Detroit, .351; E. Collins, Chicago, .351; Sisler, St. Louis .351; Sewell, Cleveland .346.

Kelly Back in Stride

George Kelly of the Giants got back into his home run stride during the past week and cracked out four circuit drives, bringing his total for the season to 17, according to averages released today including games of last Wednesday. Meusel, formerly with the Phillies and now a teammate of the slugging New York first baseman, and Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, are Kelly's closest rivals for four-ply drives, being tied with 12.

Hornsby, who brought his total base collections to 235 during the past week, continues to top the National league batters with an average of .416. He made his total base record on 147 hits, which included 26 doubles and 13 triples.

Pep Young of the Giants has tied Cuthaw of Pittsburgh for the runner-up honors to Hornsby for players who have participated in 55 or more games. They are tied with .362, while McHenry of St. Louis is next with .358.

Frisch of New York who with 77 is high man for runs scored in the league is out in front among the base stealers, having pilfered two bases during the past week. His string now is 28.

Other leading batters:

Meusel, New York .354; Maranville, Pittsburgh .341; Fournier, St. Louis .340; R. Grimes, Chicago .339; C. Williams, Philadelphia .339; Maisel, Chicago .333; Roush, Cincinnati .333; Mann, St. Louis .333.

Another Home Run King

Reb. Russell, the hard hitting Minneapolis outfielder, failed to add to his home run record and Bunny Brief of Kansas City smashed out one four-play blow and tied the big southpaw slugger at 21 apiece. However, Russell continues to top the batters of the American Association with an average of .374 as compared with .387 a week ago. He brought his total base record to 250 on 135 hits, which besides his circuit drive include 24 doubles and 14 triples.

Del Gainer of Milwaukee is the runner-up to Russell with a batting average of .368, according to averages released today and which include games of last Wednesday. The averages are for players who have participated in 55 or more games.

Baird of Indianapolis burned up the plates the past week and pilfered five bases, stretching his string to 43.

Other leading batters:

Kirke, Louisville .367; Lear, Milwaukee .364; Good, Kansas City .363; Brief, Kansas City .358; Gearin, Milwaukee .351; Thorpe, Toledo .350; Fisher, Minneapolis .346; Acosta, Louisville .341.

At Terrific Clip

Omaha's slugger, Smiling Jack Leivelt, cracked out fourteen hits since the compilation of the last averages and so fattened his lead among the batters of the Western League. Leivelt is hitting .438. The averages are of players who have participated in 55 or more games and include games of last Monday, Tuesday's box scores failing to arrive on time.

DUSTS OFF MITTS FOR REAL WORK

JOHNNY WILSON.

Johnny Wilson is dusting off his gloves often this year.

The "most razed" middleweight champion, after a long layoff, now is carrying a chip on his shoulder.

And Wilson has a record back of him that any champion might be proud of.

He has been in over a hundred battles and has never been knocked out.

His log book reads as follows: Knockouts, 40; won on points, 19; no-decision bouts, 28; draws, 2; lost, 12.

Champions who have not been kayoed are decidedly scarce.

Mike O'Dowd held the honor of having finished all his fights on his feet before he lost his title to Wilson, May 6, 1920, at Boston on points.

Jack Dempsey has one black mark against him. Jim Flynn bowled him over for certain one time.

Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion of Europe and light heavyweight champion of the world, was stopped several times during his early career and recently by Dempsey at Jersey City.

Jack Britton, welterweight title holder, was stopped in 1905 by a novice named Steve Kinney. He passed out in the first round. It was a case of poor match-making. For Britton did not own the remarkable defense he now has.

Benny Leonard has been flattened twice. Young Shugrue knocked Leonard out in four rounds in 1912. Shugrue was the leading contender for the lightweight title then, and Leonard was a beginner. Frankie Fleming kayoed Leonard in five rounds.

Johnny Kilbane never took the ether in his own class.

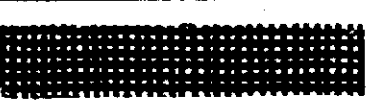

Joe Lynch, bantam king, shares with Wilson the honor of never having been stopped.

MANDAN STAGES UNUSUAL GAME

Dortler and Finch, Mandan baseball pitchers, will stage a pitcher's battle in Mandan tomorrow. Mandan had a game scheduled for tomorrow with Jamestown but Jamestown disbanded and Mandan was left with an open date. So a game between "home guards" and "professionals" will be staged. The Mandan baseball team is composed partly of home players and salaried players.

MANY ENTER IN TENNIS MEET

Grand Forks, July 30.—Many entries for the eighteenth annual tournament of the North Dakota Tennis association have been received by W. N. Elton of Grand Forks, secretary. A very large number of entries in the women's event are reported and much interest is being taken by the women. Contestants throughout the state have signified their intention of entering and many from out of the state will participate in the open events. Practically all of last year's winners will be present to defend their titles.

IF— We Lost Your Good Will

If our service station burned down we'd get the insurance.

If burglars stole our cash, we could borrow some.

But if we lost that part of our business called GOOD WILL, we could get it back again only through months, or possibly years, of the hardest kind of work.

That's why we say GOOD WILL is the most valuable thing we own.

Our promptness and thoroughness will show you, if you come in, how much we value your GOOD WILL.

WONT LET SPIRIT OF BARBAROSSA REST IN PEACE

Kelbra, Germany, July 30.—German militarists won't let the spirit of Friedrich Barbarossa rest in peace. They are worse than the patriotic Americans who have trundled poor old John Paul Jones around so unceremoniously in recent years.

Hindenburg and 10,000 other soldiers who fought in both the Franco-Prussian and the recent war journeyed to this part of Germany and participated in the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the dedication of the gigantic Kythaeuser memorial erected to celebrate Germany's victory over France and the restoration of the German empire.

This location in the hills between the Thuringian and Hartz Mountains was selected for the memorial because it is here that legend insists Friedrich Barbarossa, Germany's first great warrior, lived on for eight centuries and awaited the opportunity to restore the empire which he founded in the 12th century. Under his son, Friedrich II, the empire went to pieces. But the red-bearded monarch, so the tradition runs, refused to accept the dissolution of the empire as final.

When Bismarck finally managed to re-establish the German empire, the spirit of Friedrich Barbarossa is supposed to have risen from the cavern where he slept for centuries and assumed the direction of Germany's destiny. A gigantic statue of Friedrich Barbarossa stands beneath the great Kythaeuser memorial and represents him leading Germany on to victory.

Until the defeat of France made Friedrich Barbarossa's resurrection possible he is supposed to have lived in a cave beneath the eminence on which the great memorial was erected. A statue of the old emperor with in the cave represents him as sleeping with his head resting upon a marble table through which his red beard grew.

Friedrich Rueckert and many other German poets have sung of the red-bearded emperor who refused to die but merely went to sleep, after descending into the enchanted cavern and taking the glory of the empire with him. Ravens were supposed to fly over the hill surmounting the cavern and when they stopped flying the sleeping monarch was to awake and resume leadership.

Like Rip Van Winkle, Friedrich Barbarossa had pygmies for his companion and these droll folk were supposed to keep continually on the watch that they might arouse the sleeping emperor when the ravens gave the signal for him to arise.

Military events in 1918 again upset the dreams of Friedrich Barbarossa, and disturbed the peace of Wilhelm II. The perfected legend as typified in the great memorial pile and the resur-

"50,000 Miles—Never Failed"

"My Essex was purchased in March, 1919, and driven more than 50,000 miles. My car will go miles to the gallon of gasoline in the city and greater mileage in the country. My total repair has been less than $150. It has never failed, would not consider any trade that you could offer."

"I believe I could sell an Essex to any pro would drive my car for 30 minutes."

rected spirit of Barbarossa is again turned back to the 13th century. The ravens still fly about the hill where Hindenburg and his comrades-in-arms gathered to do honor to the regime which has given way before democratic forces.

Barbarossa's statue still remains in the enchanted cavern and perhaps future poets will extend the legend, or alter it so as to have the restless spirit of Wilhelm I await the opportunity to revive the empire which went to pieces under his grandson.

OBERAMMERGAU ACTIVE SCENE

Oberammergau, July 29.—Since the decision was made to give the delayed Passion Play in 1922 Oberammergau has taken on new life. Carpenters, painters and masons, many of them wearing long hair and beards which mark them as participants in previous dramatizations of the passion of Jesus Christ, are restoring the open-air theater and villas which had no attention during the war period.

Busy housewives are preparing their homes for the reception of visitors who will fill the little village next summer. Scene-painters are rebuilding and restoring the representations of parts of the Holy Land where Jesus lived and died and rose again from the tomb.
